BUSINESS OVERVIEW

Quantum International Income Corp (“Quantum” or the “Company”) seeks opportunities to acquire and grow businesses in order to generate stable distributions for its shareholders, along with capital appreciation. The Company seeks to acquire operating businesses with a proven track record, an opportunity for growth and whose management wishes to continue to operate the business going forward. The Company’s investment approach is to grow through the acquisition of “platform” businesses that are consistent with its business strategy and acquisition criteria and then to continue to build revenues and earnings within these businesses. Potential acquisition targets are private or public companies in a variety of industries. Acquisition of all or a majority of the ownership of each such business is preferred. Value will be created by seeking out high growth, high margin opportunities where the acquired businesses can maintain and develop the deep knowledge, expertise and understanding of their customers’ needs required to deliver superior service and command higher pricing and margins than the competition.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they become due. The Company actively manages its liquidity through cash and equity management strategies. Such strategies include continuously monitoring forecasted and actual cash flows from operating, financing and investing activities, seeking to obtain financing through its existing shareholder and related companies.

The Company's cash flow is generated from the distributions received from its interest in Lucky Bucks, LLC. The Company monitors cash on a regular basis and reviews expenses and overhead to ensure costs and commitments are being paid in a timely manner. Management has worked with and negotiated with vendors to ensure payment arrangements are satisfactory to all parties and that monthly cash commitments are managed within the Company's operating cash flow capabilities.

Management's goal is to maintain financial flexibility in order to preserve its ability to meet financial obligations, including debt servicing payments and ultimately dividend payments to shareholders in the future. Management consistently monitors its subsidiaries debt covenants and management attempts to deploy capital to provide an appropriate investment return to its shareholders.

Capital Management

The Company manages and adjusts its capital structure based on available funds in order to support its operations and acquisitions. The capital of the Company consists of share capital, warrants and long-term debt. The Board of Directors does not establish quantitative return on capital criteria for management, but rather relies on the expertise of the Company's management to sustain future development of the business.

As the Company continues to assess and seek to acquire an interest in additional businesses, the Company may continue to rely on capital markets to support continued growth. Management reviews its capital management approach on an ongoing basis and believes that this approach, given the relative size of the Company, is reasonable.

The Company monitors its capital structure and must comply with certain financial covenants related to its long-term debt. The Company intends to manage its capital by operating at a level that provides a conservative margin compared to the limits of its covenants. For the period from March 1, 2017 to November 30, 2017, the Company was in compliance with the financial covenants related to its senior secured first lien term loan.

RISK FACTORS

Risks related to the businesses and industries of the Company

General economic conditions

The Company's operating subsidiary operates in the digital skilled-based gaming space in Georgia. The profitability of the Company is therefore dependent on favorable economic conditions to prevail in both countries for its successful operations. Decrease of employment rates in the U.S. could significantly impact potential patient population and thus can negatively impact our business.

Business risks related to operating in the digital skilled-based gaming space

The Company is subject to general business risks inherent in the operation of digital skilled-based gaming terminal locations, notably contract renewal risk, changes in regulation, competition from other operators, capital expenditure requirements, etc. Moreover, there is no assurance that the performance expected to be achieved at Lucky Bucks will be achieved. Any one of, or a combination of, these factors may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Fluctuations in revenues and payor mix

The Company's digital skill-based gaming terminal business is not significantly affected by variability of payments from third-party payors. The revenue cycle is highly regulated by the Georgia Lottery Corporation and the Company can monitor its weekly cash receipts to the Georgia COAM portal.

Key personnel

The Company's success is largely dependent upon retaining key personnel engaged in the digital skilled-based gaming terminal business. An inability to retain key employees may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our success also depends on the efforts and abilities of our management, as well as our ability to attract additional qualified personnel to manage operations and future growth. Also, we maintain a key employee life insurance policy on the CEO of Quantum International Income Corp. and are currently assessing the need for additional insurance on other key management personnel or partners. The loss of a member of management, other key employee or partners could have an adverse effect on our business, operating results and financial condition.

Regulatory risks

Lucky Bucks operation in the U.S. is subject to state rules and regulations as monitored by the Georgia Lottery Corporation. In April 2013, the Georgia Lottery Corporation statutorily assumed the regulatory duties of compliance and enforcement of Class A and Class B Coin Operated Amusement Machines (COAMs) in Georgia. The COAM Division of the GLC oversees these duties. Strict licensing standards, financial responsibilities, and connection/communication protocols are governed by GLC rules and state law. Awareness and education are the two most important fundamentals for a COAM license holder in today's industry. We believe that Lucky Bucks is currently in material compliance with all applicable licensing, financial responsibilities and connection/communication protocols. There can be no assurance that Lucky Bucks will be able to maintain all necessary licenses or certifications in good standing or that it will not be required to incur substantial costs in doing so. The failure to maintain all necessary licenses, certifications and accreditations in good standing, or the expenditure of substantial funds to maintain them, could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Acquisition strategy and concentration risk

The Company currently owns an interest in one digital skill-based gaming business (Lucky Bucks). Therefore, all of the risks are currently concentrated in a single business. Lucky Bucks owns terminals installed in various locations across the state of Georgia so the risks are diversified. The Company will continue to execute on its aggressive growth strategy through acquisitions in the Georgia digital skill-based gaming space. Failure to identify suitable acquisition targets and negotiate attractive consideration and acceptable financing terms may adversely affect the Company's performance. As of January 29, 2018 Lucky Bucks closed nine acquisitions of other digital skill-based gaming businesses in Georgia.

Future growth depends on the ability to locate and secure financially attractive targets that meet the acquisition strategy of the Company, as well as the ability of accessing funds through capital markets to finance the transaction. Failure to identify suitable acquisition targets and negotiate attractive consideration and acceptable financing terms may adversely affect the Company's performance.

Any failure to successfully integrate our businesses and businesses we acquire could adversely affect our business, and we may not realize the full benefits of the strategic acquisitions.

Our ability to realize the anticipated benefits of the strategic acquisitions will depend, to a large extent, on our ability to successfully integrate our business and the businesses we acquire. Integrating and coordinating certain aspects of the operations and personnel of multiple businesses and managing the expansion in the scope of our operations and financial systems involves complex operational, technological and personnel-related challenges. The potential difficulties, and resulting costs and delays, relating to the integration of our business and the strategic acquisitions include:

- the difficulty in integrating newly acquired businesses and operations in an efficient and effective manner;
- the challenges in achieving strategic objectives, cost savings and other benefits expected from acquisitions;
- the diversion of management's attention from the day-to-day operations;
- additional demands on management related to the increased size and scope of our company following the acquisitions; and
- challenges in keeping existing customers and obtaining new customers.

There is no assurance that we will successfully or cost-effectively integrate our business and the businesses we acquire. In addition, the integration process may cause an interruption of, or loss of momentum in, the activities of our combined business. If management is not able to effectively manage the integration process, or if any significant business activities are interrupted as a result of the integration process, our business could suffer and our results of operations and financial condition may be harmed. Even if the businesses are successfully integrated, we may not realize the full benefits of the strategic acquisitions, including anticipated synergies, cost savings or growth opportunities, within the expected timeframes or at all.

In addition, we have incurred, and may incur additional, significant integration and restructuring expenses to realize synergies. However, many of the expenses that will be incurred are, by their nature, difficult to estimate accurately. These expenses could, particularly in the near term, exceed the savings that we expect to achieve from elimination of duplicative expenses and the realization of economies of scale and cost savings. Although we expect that the realization of efficiencies related to the integration of the businesses may offset incremental transaction and merger-related costs over time, we cannot give any assurance that this net benefit will be achieved in the near term, or at all. Any of these matters could materially adversely affect our businesses or harm our financial condition, results of operations and prospects

Our business is geographically concentrated, which subjects us to greater risks from changes in local or regional conditions.

We currently conduct our business solely in Georgia. Due to this geographic concentration, our results of operations and financial condition are subject to greater risks from changes in local and regional conditions, such as:

- changes in local or regional economic conditions and unemployment rates;
- adverse weather conditions and natural disasters (including weather or road conditions that limit access to our properties)
- changes in local and state laws and regulations, including laws and regulations
- a decline in the number of residents in or near, or visitors to, our locations; and
- changes in the local or regional competitive environment.

As a result of the geographic concentration of our business, we face a greater risk of a negative impact on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects in the event that any of the geographic areas in which we operate is more severely impacted by any such adverse condition, as compared to other areas in the United States.
